A Matter of Wellness

By Janice Ford-Spencer

It's time to spread the word! For the past 10 months, Oakville has had the answer to many of our communities' physiological needs. The HealthSCAN Digital Thermography Clinic located at The Foot and Health Centre on Burloak Drive can provide clients with the definitive screening method of detecting cancer, disease, nameless medical conditions and unexplained pain... Thermography. Internationally accepted and FDA approved, the Burloak clinic is the only Ontario thermography clinic to use the latest medical technology for thermographic imaging.

Digital Infrared Thermal Imaging (DITI) - is a non-invasive test that using an infra-red camera to measure and pinpoint abnormal skin temperatures, which can indicate early, stage breast cancer and numerous physiological problems. The camera gauges body tissue heat energy that is reflected on a high-speed computer for imaging. Generally "problem areas" show high temperatures due to increased blood flow and increased metabolic activity. The imaging is then downloaded and sent for interpretation by physicians trained by the American College of Clinical Thermography associated with Duke University Medical Centre.

How has this revolutionary screening process escaped us? Director Kathy Pye and Clinic Director Janice Holmes CCT, CAT(C) recognized the absence of this technology in Canada and made it their mission to open a clinic that could service the GTA and surrounding areas. "Thermography is considered to be a mainstream test of physiology in the United States, England, Australia, New Zealand and other countries throughout Asia," says Pye. Pye is a wellness expert. Practicing for 15 years, she is a credited doctor of Acupuncture and Homeopathy, as well as a certified constitutional facial rejuvenation practitioner. Kathy Pye has been passionate about bringing Thermography to Ontario. "This cutting edge technology is deemed to be the leader in early breast screening."

In comparison, Breast Thermography detects functional changes in breast tissue before tumors form and when the tumors are too small to be detected with X-rays. Completely non-intrusive and void of radiation, compression, contact or needles, the process is comfortable and exact. Says Pye, "Screening of the breast can detect the possibility of pathological problems within 6-8 years prior to an abnormality picked up on a mammogram." Particularly useful during early phases of rapid tumor growth, Thermography can be used for women of all ages and with all types of breast tissue. "It is especially effective when dealing with young or dense breasts."

Certified in clinical Thermography, Janice Holmes and Pye believe in preventive health care, it just made sense to establish a clinic specializing in Thermography. The clinic offers a relaxing, welcoming atmosphere with skilled technicians and an RN on staff.
